

Steps to find the standard deviation:

- Find the mean of the set.
- Subtract each element of the set by the mean and square the difference.
- Add those difference and divide the sum by the total number of elements.
- Take the square root of the divisor, getting the standard deviation.

$$\sigma = \sqrt{\mu_2}$$